BACKGROUND:

The Legislative Assembly originally created the Office of Administrative Hearings (OAH), then called the Hearing Officer Panel, in 1999 as a pilot program. The OAH was made permanent in 2003. The OAH's role is to provide an independent and impartial forum for citizens and businesses to dispute state agency action against them. The OAH is headed by a chief administrative law judge (chief ALJ) who is appointed by the Governor to serve a term of four years and can only be removed for cause.

The Office of Administrative Hearings Oversight Committee was originally established in 2001 to oversee the activities of the newly created Hearing Officer Panel. The Committee has nine members appointed by the President of the Senate, Speaker of the House, Governor, and Attorney General. The chief ALJ serves as an ex officio member. The Oversight Committee's statutory responsibilities include studying the operations of the OAH; making recommendations to the Governor and the Legislative Assembly that the committee deems necessary to increase the effectiveness, fairness, and efficiencies of the OAH's operations; making recommendations for legislation related to OAH operations; and conducting any other necessary studies.

House Bill 3141 makes the appointment of the chief ALJ by the Governor subject to Senate confirmation, changes the chief ALJ qualification requirements, and directs the Employment Department, in coordination with the Oversight Committee, to conduct a public candidate search, recruitment, and application process to assist the Oversight Committee in making recommendations to the Governor on the appointment of a chief ALJ.
