BACKGROUND:

Current law requires an insurer to provide proof of loss forms when a person claiming loss under an insurance policy makes a written request for the forms. However, the insurer has no responsibility to ensure completion of the proof of loss forms. For the purposes of, fire insurance, a person has 90 days after receipt of proof of loss forms to furnish proof of loss, notwithstanding anything more restrictive contained in the policy itself.

House Bill 2982 A allows an insured person who experiences a total loss to receive a 70 percent payout of the personal property coverage without an inventory documentation, if an insured person provides documentation to the Department of Consumer and Business Services that the home was furnished, and the loss occurred as a direct result of a major disaster in a location that was subject to a declaration of a state of emergency under ORS 401.165.
