BACKGROUND:

Fluorescent bulbs, such as compact fluorescent light bulbs, contain mercury which can be released into the environment as a liquid or vapor when a bulb breaks. According to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, mercury exposure can cause adverse health effects in humans, harming internal organs and the nervous system, as well as in fish and wildlife. Vermont and California have banned the sale and distribution of certain fluorescent lamps starting in 2023 and 2024, respectively.

House Bill 2531 prohibits the sale or distribution in Oregon of certain types of new compact fluorescent lamps and linear fluorescent lamps.
