

What Is A Procurement Preference?

Kelly Mix, State Chief Procurement Officer
DAS Procurement Services

Procurement Preference

A procurement “preference” means an advantage given to offerors in a competition for contract award which may be granted based on pre-established criteria as written in Oregon laws and policies.

Two types of preferences:

Mandatory
Preferences

Discretionary Preferences

Mandatory Preferences

Oregon laws require using these preferences:

- In-state printing
- Qualified Rehabilitation Facilities (QRFs)
- In-State Tie-Bid Awards
- Interstate Reciprocal Preference
- Goods Made from Recycled Materials
- Recyclable Food Service Products
- Goods Bought to be Recyclable or Reusable
- Outsourced Services

Discretionary Preferences

Oregon laws and policies provide the option to use these preferences:

- Intergovernmental Cooperation
- State Surplus Property
- Inmate Labor
- Affirmative Action; Limited Competition & Disabled Veteran
- Oregon Goods and Services
- Safer Products Through Green Chemistry
- Emerging Small Business or Service-Disabled Veteran Owned Business

Questions?

Thank You

For more information, contact:
Kelly Mix, kelly.mix@das.oregon.gov
Meliah Masiba, meliah.masiba@das.oregon.gov