

More candidates can run without worrying about splitting the vote, RCV elections lead to representatives who better reflect their constituents, and RCV elections lead to more grassroots, issue-based campaigning.