

The current system of representation is broken. Without campaign finance reform the two party system of government responds to big business much better than to the will of the people. Ranked choice voting will let people support third party candidates without losing their influence in the larger races. I support ranked choice voting.