I have been consuming raw milk for more than a decade. My grandchildren consume raw milk and are some of the healthiest, brightest children I've ever known.

Pasteurization is antiquated. It came from a time when basic hygiene wasn't even understood. Now it kills all the good things in Real milk and changes it into something our bodies don't know how to utilize causing problems for many people. I'm not stupid and do not need to be treated like a child with the government as my nanny dictating what is "good" for me and what is not. Life is full of risk and it is always fatal. Let me live my life with the freedom to choose the risks I take for myself and to freely determine what I put into my body.

Raw milk is delicious, healthy and can have a positive effect on many health issues. Please side with freedom of choice and make it easier to access this nutrient dense food: Raw (real) milk.

If you want to restrict the consumption of something TRULY detrimental, restrict canola and soy and other unhealthy, unnatural oils which are abundant in all processed foods and the true source of so much ill health in this rich country.
