

Submitter: David Klaus

On Behalf Of:

Committee: House Committee On Behavioral Health and Health Care

Measure: HB2486

The evidence regarding childhood vaccines, especially those for COVID 19, constitute a clear and present danger to children's health. Therefore, it is imprudent to allow pharmacists who are not trained physicians and who may have a conflict of interest between profit and patient health outcomes to administer vaccines to children.