As a native Oregonian born in Westfir, Oregon in 1949, I grew up fishing all the local streams, five in all, to supplement our dinner table. My father taught me early on how to hunt and the benefits of hunting deer. For many years our family of six enjoyed venison as a major staple in our home. Since the early days of my upbringing I have continued to be an avid fisherman and hunter/gatherer each year up to this very day. I have also passed on these skills to my son who also hunts and fishes and we look forward to deer camp each year. We consider these fine outdoor activities a privilege and I support HJR5 to ensure that hunting and fishing in our beautiful State can continue without restrictions.
