Oregon Legislature does not want to give up there golden hen, US Department of Education cost shares for the days of attendance by head count.

The way the woke Oregon state school system is going, if I were a parent with school age children, I would run, not walk to an alternate school platform/curriculum choice that taught school. Where children learn to read in the second grade, or before if the child had the aptitude and all other base subjects, math and writing.

Homework buddy for third grader, in a small school with <10 students in this particular classroom and the teacher claims there not enough time to give a spelling test, or make a copy of a homework packet, and teacher has a classroom aid. What's up with that? Oregon state public schools are abysmal at most. Not fair to the student, and what does this teach? School is for slacker facility, or social based instead of educational based?

In a state where a child can get a HS Diploma for attendance, not because they received enough credits to certify as graduated?

Let children and parents decide on the best form and place for schooling, government administrator's/governorship's do not deserve the federal golden hen if cannot fulfill the role of educators to the satisfaction of the parent.
