Measure: SB767

This bill is a direct assault on parental choice. In the advent of our technological age where education can be administered and taught using many different modalities the public school system actively seeks to undermine the education of the children with the false narrative that our children are their priority. Straight up, it's a lie!

I urge a no vote on this bill. It is for the children we will continue to fight for everyday as we engage in this battle against legislation that would take away a parents rights to seek and to give their children the education of their choosing. Enough with the roadblocks! Enough with this kind legislation that would undermine families in our communities and hinders the education of all of our children.
