As someone who's never owned a car and is committed to living car-free indefinitely, public transit, walking, and biking are my primary ways of getting around Portland. I currently own two regular bikes (a city and a road bike) and I also use Biketown bikeshare when needed. I love that all Biketown bikes are electric bikes now and have been seriously considering purchasing an electric bike. A subsidy towards that purchase would expedite my decision to buy an e-bike and remain car-free. I urge you to develop a subsidy program for the purchase of electric bikes.
Thank you.
