Committee: House Committee On Behavioral Health and Health Care

Measure: HB2458

1. The state cannot prove that there is such a thing as 'gender identity,' therefore counseling for or against it is essentially faith-based, and in a secular nation, any and all parts of the law that refer to gender should be scrapped.
2. This law shouldn't be expanded to include adults, as they should be able to get any kind of therapy they want.
3. Even if the amendment was not problematic, this is a gross misuse of an emergency declaration. Even if passed, there's no urgency behind it at all.
