There is something bigger going on here, a real epidemic of young children's mental health. Making it harder for therapists to get to the bottom of the issue instead of just "affirming" these kids claims is beyond reckless.

Watch the video claims of Chloe Cole, she was mutilated as a 15 yr old and the wounds are still not healed at 18. She has to bandage herself to go to bed so her wounds don't leak. They detached her nipples and sewed them on in a different spot, they detached nerves and rearranged them so that now she feels touch on her breast in her arm. This is not just casual conversations, this is barbaric EXPERIMENTAL mutilation of children and you are absolutely evil for promoting it.
