Measure: SB42

SB 42

I want to go on the record opposing SB 42 which seems completely unnecessary to me. Oregon has a process by which potential legislation is scrutinized by legislative committees at a public hearing where all are welcome including both expert and public testimony. If it is voted out of the committee it is then voted on by the appropriate legislative body. If passed and rules are called for it goes to the appropriate agency tasked with writing those rules, also with a public process. After the rules are completed there is still an appeals process available should someone or some group feel there are legal grounds to object. There is nothing transparent or democratic about HB 42.

I recommend letting this misplaced bill die a quick and quiet death.

Sincerely,
Sarah Deumling
