Lane filtering is too dangerous. I have almost hit 5 motorcycles when they do this. I should only have to watch for vehicles going with flow of traffic. If I am at 5mph and lane next to me is 5 to 8 mph. I am not constantly thinking "What if by some off change someone will create a middle lane and do 15 mph". Just not in my training as a professional driver. We have enough "what ifs" to deal with.
