

Submitter: Christopher Sharpe
On Behalf Of:
Committee: Senate Committee On Judiciary
Measure: SB422

When riding on the freeway in heavy traffic, I usually stay near the dotted white line. This is to avoid being hit from behind, and to give myself an escape route in case I see someone not slowing down. One time a car tried to pass me because they thought they could fit in the same lane as me. If lane filtering was an option, I could have avoided the car trying to pass me.