Measure: HB2697

Ensuing adequate staffing to our medical facilities is not only a matter of life and death for the patients on the floor it is an issue for public health itself. Allowing healthcare corporations to keep staffing levels low and strain out current staff only allows for the systems to more easily arrive at a critical failure where the public health of the state and its citizens are placed in jeopardy.

This bill is as common sense as it gets for the interests of public health as such I stand in support of it.
