

Submitter: Jason Lewis

On Behalf Of:

Committee: Senate Committee On Education

Measure: SB3

Financial literacy is a critical skill for our youth. Exposure to key concepts such as budgeting, saving, borrowing, investing, and the importance of credit can help promote future success. Without exposure to these fundamental skills, it is easy for young adults to make financial mistakes that can take years to recover from. Financial literacy does not guarantee success, but it definitely increases the odds.