RE: Support for SB 565– Copay Accumulator Reform

On behalf of the Movement Disorders Policy Coalition, I am writing in support of SB 565. This legislation is critical to ensuring that patients – including those with movement disorders – have the ability to utilize copay coupons in order to afford the medications they need while being protected against surprise out-of-pocket costs.

The Movement Disorders Policy Coalition (MDPC) serves as a platform from which stakeholders, including health care providers and patients, can provide input on policy decisions impacting patient-centered care for those living with movement disorders. As a coalition of stakeholder groups across the movement disorders space, MDPC advocates at the federal, state, and health plan levels for key health reforms that increase access to personalized care for patients with movement disorders including tardive dyskinesia, Parkinson’s disease, essential tremor, Tourette Syndrome, dystonia, ataxia and Huntington’s disease.

For patients in commercial health plans, copay coupons can be vital in affording their medications. These copay coupons provide payment toward the prescription cost-sharing requirements patients manage, allowing patients to access their medications. However, a now common insurance practice called “copay accumulator programs” limits copay coupons’ benefit for patients. Insurance companies will still accept the coupon payment, but the copay accumulator programs disallow copay coupon payments from contributing to a patient's annual deductible, or out-of-pocket cost limit, which can lead to surprise out-of-pocket costs.

The increased cost to movement disorder and other patients as a result of copay accumulator programs can be detrimental to the health and well-being of patients. These surprise out-of-pocket costs can force patients to ration or discontinue their medications and treatments, leading to new or worsening symptoms, new side effects, or increased physician visits. In addition to being dangerous, this places undue burden and risk on patients who are already managing complex movement disorders.

SB 565 will protect affordability and accessibility by ensuring that all payments made on behalf of an insurance plan member, including those payments made using a copay coupon, are counted toward that patient’s out-of-pocket maximum. Most notably, this protects patients, including those with movement disorders, by ensuring continuous access to the medication they need – without fear of surprise out-of-pocket costs.
