

Submitter: Deborah Swenson

On Behalf Of:

Committee: Senate Committee On Natural Resources

Measure: SB85

States should not be telling companies how to run their business. States should not be deciding how much food production is needed anywhere. The state needs to tend to more important business, like how to get all the businesses that went out of business because of thoughtless edicts by this states Governor at the time, because of the threat of Covid,, this state needs to help get things up and running again. People need employment, not less food produced. This has not been well thought out and does not represent the peoples needs. Is the state trying to limit our food consumption? This smacks of the way Communists do things. This is not a good idea in any way shape or form.