Measure: HB3049

While we all support public safety in the hemp industry rulemaking for the hemp industry as intended by the legislature was not intended to be onerous or regulate the industry out of existence. As proof of the strict industry regulations' effect on the industry, one only needs to look at the decline in participation in Oregon. Rule-making must be clear and unambiguous HB 3409 creates more ambiguity than it solves. I am opposed to OLCC being given additional regulatory authority over the hemp industry.
