

Submitter: Lars Nelson
On Behalf Of:
Committee: House Committee On Judiciary
Measure: HB3214

Animal slavery is no better than human slavery because humans are animals. We have the same neurons, bones, muscles, hair, and eyes. Just because someone has a different shape, lower iq or is more tuned to their olfactory senses rather than their visual ones, doesn't make them any less of a person deserving of rights.

Humans are great apes in the same group as orangutans chimps and bonobos. Only assigning rights to one specific great ape based on the belief that only that species actions matter or are "real" is absurd and foolish. When one animals life is devalued, all animals lives are devalued.