

Senate Bill 188

I support SB 188

“Illegally obtained” is a strange concept. Our we speaking about forced testimony and or observations without having a legally obtained court order? I would guess the court should review the information obtained to determine if it would change the outcome of the process. That is will it find someone was not guilty of a crime that would otherwise be imprisoned or fined when in fact they were not guilty. Seems like common sense should prevail. Do the right thing and support this bill.
