

Senate Bill 864

Your killing me.

At a time when common sense is no longer common and people call evil good and good evil I guess we need a law that says "be a good samaritan" "the state has your back." Well at least I agree with being the samaritan but as for the state having your back I'm not so sure. I thought we already had a law saying we are to render help when needed if we are physically, mentally and capable of doing so.

Say YES to the bill, sign the docs (2 mins required) and move on to important stuff like the failing of our children in public education.
