These providers go above and beyond helping patients to better health and well-being. Through looking at you as a whole and providing holistic healthcare, because we are not separate systems but a complex whole. And they most certainly deserve to be paid the same as other healthcare professionals. I've never had a doctor care as much about me as a whole and using that lense to look at my current health than my naturopathic doctor has. Extremely grateful. I historically despised going to the doctor and not gotten much out of visits but feel so much differently about my naturopathic doctor!
