

Submitter: Jason Jackson
On Behalf Of:
Committee: House Committee On Judiciary
Measure: HB2007

My right to defend myself and my family is one of the fundamental rights in the Constitution of the United States. This act is in direct violation of that. What right do you have to say that I cannot take my gun with me in the chance that i may need to defend my wife, kids, or myself from someone who wants to take their life? It has been proven time and time again that more people who carry a gun save lives. We need more people to carry guns as a deterrent more than ever now. Look at places like Chicago, New York, L.A., San Francisco, These places have the most restrictive Gun laws in the nation and yet their crime rate keeps going up. Just because you don't believe in guns and there use for defense doesn't mean that you can force it on those of us who do. It is better that a good guy with a gun stands up against a person who wishes to do others harm, than do nothing and watch as they kill without mercy until the police show up after tens of people have already died. You have no proof that this will stop a person who wishes to do violence from doing it. All this does is take away everyone's right to defend themselves against the threat of death and rely on a police force that will not show up on time to prevent the act of happening.

Jason Jackson
United States Marine Corps Veteran.