Committee: House Committee On Behavioral Health and Health Care

Measure: HB2002

I strongly urge you to oppose this radical so-called health bill. Regardless of your position on abortion, this bill pushes the limits too far. We should approach any bill with extreme caution if it encourages children to undergo drastic gender-altering surgery without the consent and support of parents. Gender issues are complex and life altering. Pushing children into these procedures without lengthy review and counseling is simply wrong. Parents need to be involved in their children's lives, and any legislation that blocks a parent's rights and involvement should be regarded with grave concern.

This bill appears to be pushing an ideology that is potentially devastating to children. Vote no.

Thank you.
