Measure: HB2002

This bill is very bad for children and young adults. Most children change their mind if not daily, weekly on what they want to be. If they want to be a cat are we going to try to change them into a cat...I was a tomboy growing up, under this I would have been changed to a boy. I'm glad I am not young in this day and time. Young brains do not stop growing until the age of 25. We need to let our youth grow up and see what they really want to be and what they want to do with their lives. Please don't pass this absurd law of which some of the harm against the children can't be reversed.
