Measure: HB2002

As a parent/grandparent I totally oppose HB2002. How can a child make a life decision when they are underage? They lack the maturity to understand the implications of such a major decision. Parent's advice is to help a child grow up. When very important event such as an abortion is done without the parents knowledge the child may suffer with know one to understand what took place. This could lead to health issues and or depression once the reality of what they have done sets in. I strongly oppose HB2002. Do not voter for this!!
