HB2002

This is a very very dangerous bill. Giving minors the ability to make decisions on abortion, drug treatment, and gender transition without parental notice is a recipe for disaster and a slap in the face to parents. Minors are not old enough to make these permanent life changing decisions when they are in a stressful situation. That's why they, have parents to give them guidance and to look after their well being. This bill is a prime example of the erosion of the family unit, which happens to be the core of a healthy society.

A no vote on HB2002 is a vote for the protection of our children.
