Measure: HB2002

With so many states attempting to strip away rights and create barriers for those to access gender affirming care, Oregon should follow what a few other states have been doing. Offer a safe and accessible space for those who can not get what they need in their own state. By passing this measure, we are protecting the lives of those who are already having a majority of the country think that they don't deserve rights, health care, or to be seen and valued. This measure would ensure that trans people can live their lives.
