Hello,

Please allow city and county governments decide how they want to set policy regarding guns in their public buildings. That is their "home" and can you imagine if someone dictated how we should handle what goes on inside 'our' premises? We would be outraged and have to prepare for the worst, given the current gun climate. And...because of the current violence climate, it puts an added burden on public entities because they would have to anticipate and prepare for any mayhem/altercation which could put an additional financial burden on them in terms of security, etc. I am new to Oregon and am tired of seeing the lawless run the state and law abiding citizens bear the burden or even give up their life! Shouldn't every one be entitled to attend meetings/gatherings in public places without being afraid of not getting home alive? Common sense!
