I am totally opposed to this bill. Fur is a renewable resource, unlike fake fur, and the sale of it is important to the Oregon economy. Does this mean that we cannot sell sheep wool? Can't buy or sell fishing flies? It is also important to control some species of fur animals, and presently, the sale of the furs is incentive for trappers to keep their numbers in check. This is an emotionally motivated bill, and has no basis in reality, or practicality.
