

Submitter: Vincent Chung

On Behalf Of:

Committee: House Committee On Judiciary

Measure: HB2005

There's no world in which this latest infringement survives Heller's "common use for lawful purposes" test as reaffirmed in Bruen. There is no historical precedent for banning the private manufacturing of firearms. That said, has the committee considered whether the firearms "tracing" that the ATF conducts actually accomplishes anything in terms of solving crimes? ATF admits they don't know.