

Submitter: David Robboy

On Behalf Of:

Committee: Senate Committee On Energy and Environment

Measure: SB525

Aside from their well-known and established contributions to air pollution and climate change, gasoline powered gardening implements are noisy and are a nuisance in an urban environment. Leaf blowers in particular serve no productive or useful purpose, create noise and dust in addition to the pollution from their exhaust, and could be replaced by rakes. I encourage the legislature to pass this bill.