Measure: HB2990

I am in support of HB 2990 because I am an individual who is dedicated to improving and protecting the environment in which I interact with. I agree with the bill and its goal to protect communities that are impacted by climate disasters. I think it is of utmost importance to dedicate our time and energy toward establishing policies like this that aim to hold the necessary space for people to interact, get help, and make conscious efforts toward mitigating climate disasters. In a similar sense, I think more needs to be done to establish resilience hubs and networks that address the needs of our community and this bill does an exceptional job at wanting to provide the community with the opportunity and support needed to grow.
