Measure: HB2007

The demonization of law abiding gun owners is one of the most sickening and abhorrent things in our current society. People that want nothing more to not only protect themselves, but protect YOU. And instead of thanking these people, we've apparently decided to criminalize them, spit in their face, and work as hard as possible to make their lives living hell.

Luckily, this bill may not change all that much, today. But this will obviously lead to the next bill which will allow ALL private establishments and businesses to restrict CHL carriers, effectively repealing the 2nd, and the constitutionally protected ability to carry a handgun outside the home.

The school bill that passed in a previous session is far, far more insidious than this one. But clearly you feel you haven't gone far enough yet. The blood of dead children already soaks your hands, you apparently now thirst for all of us.

Law abiding conceal carriers are here to save themselves, our children, and you. They don't shoot up schools, they don't attack random people. Evil criminals do. This law doesn't stop them. No law will ever stop them. Shame on anyone supporting the further restriction of our citizens to protect themselves. We are not, and will never be your cannon fodder. Shame.
