Measure: HB2005

The United States Constitution clearly gives American citizens the right to own guns. Our right to bear arms is to protect citizens from governmental tyranny, of which this bill smells.

There are far more law-abiding citizens than criminals. Hobbyists with the skills to create a gun, in their own home, should not automatically become criminals should this bill pass. The punishments proposed are insanely excessive.

I strongly urge you to oppose HR 2005.
