This clearly infringes on the 2nd A and is hypocritical if you allow 18 year old's to go to war but then you hand cuff them from defend themselves at home with a firearm. This is also an anti women's rights agenda so young women no longer have an "Equalizing" ability to defend themselves. New rules don't apply to criminals. That's why they are criminals. Criminals laugh, you think they change their plans based on your new laws. Believing that would be a prime example of Mental illness that makes no sense. Just like your "Gun Free Zones" have become the target of choice for criminals. The Colorado Theater shooter is a prime example, the only "Gun free zone" theater in his vicinity but had to pass 4 other theaters that were closer to him that were not gun free zones. Easy calculation of risk was slim that other guns would be there to stop him at the one that was a "Gun Free Zone". Just one of so many examples if you just think it through. These laws create an environment that becomes worse with these nonsensical ideals. When you start seeing the person as the problem not the "tool" is when you start to make sense and then you will actually make a difference. You already don't enforce the laws we already have by letting so many criminals out or better yet don't even prosecute. This trend in liberal counties is why they have a Police shortage, many leave in disgust. So how do you expect anyone to believe more laws will help. When you allow students to continue to attend school when they have proven to be a threat through bad behavior and are prohibited from even having a backpack anymore but still allow them to come to school and then shoot up the school, there's your problem. If someone runs people over with their truck, its not the trucks problem, you say its the driver. If someone stabs another, you say its the stabber that's the problem, where does the mental illness come into play when the tool is a gun. You show yourselves as hypocrites. Just like "its racist to have a border wall" along the Mexico/US border but you all support the border security of Ukraine and your own home. Or 4 years ago it was racist to have the idea that TikTok was a National Security threat but not today. What changed? We had the same threat knowledge then as now. Its clearly political hacking.
