

Submitter: jonathan cox

On Behalf Of:

Committee: House Committee On Judiciary

Measure: HB2005

people with the intent to hurt another person or group of people do not care about laws as it is already a law to do so,. there are already plenty of laws on the books that are not enforced even when they are flagrantly violated. there is no need to further unconstitutionally restrict the rest of the citizens of this Republic, that is unless you are planning something would provoke an uprising among its citizens and intend to force your will on us..