Measure: HB2006

Every year laws are passed related to guns. Not a single law attempted or passed does a single thing to change outcomes. Why? Because criminals don't follow laws.

A gun, an inanimate object can't do a darn thing by itself. It takes another object, a bullet which someone has to put in the gun. Then it takes pulling the trigger. When you go through all this process, that's a morality issue and not a single law will stop that.

Quit punishing law abiding citizens because you won't punish the violators.

This bill will effectively keep kids from being able to hunt. Will effect ODFW and there funding.

Again, people under 21 will still find access. You are punishing law abiding people because the states systems in place to stop shootings done work but you fail to recognize your own failed system.

You believe kids 6 years old can be mature enough to choose a gender and seek services without parents knowledge, then trust others that are older and more mature to make the right decisions too.

I strongly oppose this because it will have ZERO impact that you state it will.
