Absolutely not. That is giving people in charge of a building power and legal authority they should not have. Re-frame this argument another way: "Authorizes governing bodies of certain public entities that own or control public building to adopt policy, ordinance or regulation or precluding affirmative defense for operating a motorized vehicle near a public building and adjacent grounds by legally licensed drivers "

They don't get to do that, sorry. This bill is trying to circumvent processes which exist for the very purpose of preventing this kind of thing from happening.
