Measure: HB2006

It would help Oregon to include in the school curriculum, the proper management and the correct use of guns. It has been proposed that it be offered from age 12 in schools so that young children would be able to make responsible choices with firearms.

Young children have saved themselves from attackers using guns that they have been trained how to use correctly. Let's promote heroes, not villains.

Villains are created with unrestricted use of the dangerous mind training of video and reality games, along with promotion of drugs like Oregon is doing now.

Schools should teach civics, responsibility toward each other, virtues, and the correct use of firearms.
