Committee: House Committee On Judiciary
Measure: HB3390

ONRI opposes this bill for several reasons, one reason is because Representatives from Portland should stick to their swim lane when they do not understand the consequences of their feel-good political agenda.

Secondly, there are already regulations surrounding fur trade. We've been trading fur in this state since before we became a state. Oregon was established, in part, by fur-trading clear back in the late 1700's with John Jacob Astor. We don't need someone from Portland that doesn't understand our way of life to pass laws against our way of life especially since we've been doing this for hundreds of years and under regulations and laws that are already in place.

Sincerely,
Jen Hamaker
