Committee: Senate Committee On Natural Resources
Measure: SB830

As you know, beavers are a keystone species. There are many considerations when relocating these very special animals. But perhaps groups who love to trap them and groups who love to protect them can unite to help move them properly. The benefits of doing so would, among other things, add significantly to the alluvial water supply which is so desperately needed in so many areas of central and eastern Oregon. Please consider passing this legislation. Thank you to all of this committee for all your hard work.
