

Submitter:                   edward michaels

On Behalf Of:

Committee:                 House Committee On Judiciary

Measure:                    HB3390

This flawed bill, which includes several exemptions, does not benefit but a few non-capitalists, who erroneously believe that man is not part of this evolutionary ecosystem which has produced and sustained everyone of us. This is a nothing more than a “feel-good” bill for a few people that have too much money and too much time on their hands. These same people have nothing productive to offer to civilization, but yet they have no compunction in harming many honest, hard-working, real people, with serious intentions to transform useful animal products for the good of society.