It worked, barely

Reviewed in the United States on March 25, 2021

Size: 26 Inch x 26 Inch

As others have mentioned there's really no other choice. It fits although the material is thinner, the weatherstrip is applied so poorly it wouldn't seal without re-fitting it, the hinge is riveted in place about 1 mm lower than the original so it stresses the plastic cover... See more

Fits and that's about the only good part

It did fit my 2002 northern lite camper. That's about where the good news ends. I saw the reviews of arriving broken and figured that people weren't being careful enough. I went to install today and everything was fine until I noticed the corner had broken and the crack...

Not Quite Right.

Reviewed in the United States on April 4, 2019

Size: 26 Inch x 26 Inch

The size is perfect but the hinge is place in the wrong spot by just a little bit. This won't let it shut tightly on the non hinge side. I kept it as I had to have it. I put a thick piece of foam insulation strip in to make it a little better.

Flimsy, just the lid, arrived broken

Not only did just the lid arrive, which war probably my fault for not reading the listing carefully, but the lid was broken, cracked actually. I've had other rv vents and i was surprised at how flimsy it was. For so large a lid, and that price, you'd think it would... See more

First one was damaged but they sent a new one and luckily it wasn’t damaged- the box seems pretty flimsy. However the fitment is great!

The cover fit and works perfectly. You must install the cover and attach the cross bracket to the crank assembly before screwing the cross bracket to the vent cover. I found out the hard way.

Did not come with screws to mount hinge or aluminum center track. Also they left the wrong piece of weather stripping off so that I can't install the center track without damaging the weather stripping. You'll need to buy more weather stripping and screws from the hardware... See more
