This is ridiculous! Are you seriously trying to make property ownership such a pain in the ass that all individuals like me give up on owning investment properties? Stay out of the market and stop trying to control my life! I am a responsible land owner and I rarely have vacancies because rents and policies are fair. The rental industry is already over regulated! I reinvest my money into the community, trying to buy locally. Gov't burdens just make me want to relocate my investment elsewhere....is this part of the bigger plan?
