

Submitter: Robin Lee
On Behalf Of: self
Committee: Senate Committee On Labor and Business
Measure: HB2620

I oppose this bill on the grounds that it covers too many topics, references too many ORS Rules, and if I'm distilling it correctly, is redundant by virtue of the existence of each and all of the Rules referenced. Geez, y'all! When will the day come when we have single subject bills that one can read and understand in a 30-minute perusal? I read, and grasped, our U.S. Constitution in an hour and ten minutes--and that was including stumbling a bit over some of the phrasing our Founders used. I don't see where HB 2620 does much to safeguard buyer. Rules are already on the books to permit lawsuits and compensation if/when fraud is committed, Scrap this bill.
